General Guidelines

These are general guidelines. Please note that Placement-Guidelines on Product Slides (e.g. filetype) are overruling general guidelines.

HTML5	Mobile
HTML5 advertising material must be delivered in a zip file.	If you are delivering HTML5 ad media for mobile devices, please include a static fallback (gif/jpg).
The maximum weight (according to specs) refers to all files together in an unzipped state.	We cannot currently guarantee HTML5 support in all areas.
The HTML document should be formatted in the UTF-8 charset.	Video
Special characters that are not displayed correctly in the browser with UTF-8 must be encoded manually (e.g. [ä instead of ä).	File format: Raw-MP4
The target URL and trackings must be stored in the HTML5 banner.	Assets have to be delivered separately as PNG
The target URL must be opened in a new tab (target='_blank').	Best Case: No CTA & no graphics
Ad media tests must be possible locally in the browser.	It is possible to work with product carousels
References in the advertising material to external resources (JS libraries, videos, fonts) must all be delivered via SSL (https://).	Aspect Ratio: 16:9, 9:16, 4:4, 1:1
Please refer to the instructions from Xandr (IAB Standard): smg.page/microsoft-html5-guidelines
Animations/Sound/Flash	AdSpeed
The length of the animation within an advertising banner is not limited. However, the recommended maximum length is 30 seconds.	The loading speed of advertising media is crucial for campaign performance. For physical ads, the weight must adhere to the specifications. For 3rd-party tags, we test:
Sound Activation by user interaction only.	Rendering: How quickly the ad renders under repeatable conditions.
Flash files are not allowed.	Initial Load: The sum of all assets (weight as per specs) loaded during page load.
	Subload: Assets loaded after the page has loaded (waiting for browser event).
	Heavy Ads Intervention: Chrome blocks ads that use more than 60 seconds of CPU, more than 15 seconds in 30 seconds, or exceed 4MB of network bandwidth.
	Initial File Requests: The number of file calls impacts ad and page performance.
	These tests ensure campaign and page performance. We proactively report any anomalies. If our specs aren't met, visibility, click, and conversion rates may be affected. In such cases, we may not investigate counting discrepancies.
